

QA Manual Test Case Report

PUMA India Website(<https://in.puma.com/in/en>)

Overview

This report outlines a set of manual test cases developed as part of a QA evaluation of the PUMA India website. The purpose of the evaluation is to validate the purpose and functionality, reliability, usability of the key features provided through the website. The release website was selected as a real public e-commerce site to provide dynamic interaction and included good opportunities for practical manual and automated testing routines. The test cases presented in this document aim to address some of the more significant features from an end user perspective. These features include the ability to login, search available products, add products to the shopping cart, view product details, and manage the wishlist option. Each test case provides the objective, input data, expected results, and a space for capturing actual results and completion status.

As a basis for manual verification and future automation using Selenium and Python. It is also used to document the features tested and to ensure that quality is upheld throughout the user experience on the PUMA India website.
